NOOO

this can not be true. you are sending the root passwort in plaintext over the network... where it is stored on different maschines. and passes all kind of insecure networks....this can not be true!!! i must be dreaming.....

PLEASE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

immediatly change the root password on each and every maschine. and think of a secure way to tell me about it...

please. never ever do this again. never send shell passwords in emails. never. and defintly not root passwords to your whole server park.

pissed.
